NAIROBI

Kenya's vibrant capital was established by the British in 1899 as a depot on the Mombasa/Uganda railway. Situated at 1795m above sea level it has a pleasant climate and has grown into a busy African city with just over 3 million residents. The starting point for most East African safaris, Nairobi itself offers plenty to see and do, from colonial buildings to traditional and contemporary African culture, and even has a national park. Please note that traffic congestion is a big problem, so if you are spending just one night in Nairobi we recommend you choose a hotel close to the airport.

GIRAFFE MANOR

Built in 1932 in the style of a Scottish hunting lodge, Giraffe Manor is surrounded by indigenous forest in the affluent Nairobi suburb of Karen. The 10 individually decorated guest bedrooms have four poster beds, antique furniture and spacious bathrooms. The hotel grounds are a sanctuary for the endangered Rothschild's giraffe, and these gentle giants sometimes join guests at the breakfast table through the windows. (Closed May 2018).

"We have travelled all around the world over the past 35+ years and we have to say that Giraffe Manor was really one, if not the best experiences/places we have stayed at. You have to experience it to believe it. Just magic. and giraffes really do put their heads through the windows and demand to be fed!! The Scottish mansion is absolutely beautiful - great meals, wonderful staff - they make everyone feel welcome, not pretentious at all. A side trip to the elephant orphanage is a must."
