Threaded by the Uaso Nyiro River, the Samburu Game Reserve is home to unique wildlife which has adapted to the arid environment, such as the blue-legged Somali ostrich, Beisa oryx, gerenuk antelope and Grevy's zebra. Lion, leopard, cheetah and other large predators also thrive in this remote, harsh region. The area is the tribal homeland of the semi-nomadic Samburu people who can often be seen in their colourful traditional dress.

The Samburu lodges and camps featured here can all be included as part of your fly-in Kenya safari (104/105). Please call our Africa specialists for advice on designing your itinerary.
